Féile Welcome

Mamma Mia! Here I go again! Yes, I have to repeat myself when describing last year – Féile 2010's programme is the best ever! Eleven days and nights of awesome music, comedy drama and major speakers to discuss politics, journalism and literature. We have a broad range of art exhibitions, many based in the wonderful setting of St Mary's University College.

Right away I anticipate many complaints because so many interesting events are clashing. It just cannot be helped and it is a problem that comes with success.

From marquee nights in Bank Square and dedicated 'trad nights' around that quarter, to the converted Leisure Centre in Andersonstown for the big gigs and dances, to the dramas being staged across the West, not to mention local entertainment in bars and clubs, people will not be stuck for choice.

We are honoured to host in St Mary's University College, Nobel Literature Laureate Seamus Heaney who will be giving a reading dedicated to his former headmaster from his student teacher days in St Thomas's, Michael McLaverty. And we have international star and son of Beechmount, musician Brian Kennedy reading at Scribes at the West, and Irvine Welsh, author of the best-selling book 'Trainspotting', speaking in St Mary's.

For our Finale we look back to the Eighties with pop icons ABC lifting the roof in Andytown. But before that, many soles will be blistered 'Jump [in] Around' to the sound of Grammy-Award winning artist, Everlast. Again, you have a vast array of choice – Damien Dempsey, Michelle Shocked, Gemma Hayes [one of Ireland's best singer/songwriters]; symphony music à la the Russian Philharmonic Chamber Orchestra in Clonard.

West Belfast was sorry to see the closure of InBev – our main community partner, based on the Glen Road – but we are happy to report that after a series of meetings the company has bequeathed to Féile a five-year legacy fund which stabilises our organisation and our four annual festivals in the medium term. We carried out a very successful training [through art] programme for the staff of 'Tennents' and we believe that both parties benefit from this creative and dynamic partnership.

The other good news has been the announcement of the twinning of Féile an Phobail with the Cork Lifelong Learning Festival [see page 7] and with assistance from Co-operation Ireland, we plan to engage on many joint ventures, pooling ideas and human resources, and organising exchange schemes for young people from both cities.

A special word of thanks must go to all the community organisations and artists who have been working on the ground creating the local events which are the backbone of our great festival. The Upper Springfield's local festival is a trail blazer and an example to other areas of what can be done. Anyone ready to take them on during our opening Carnival Parade?!

Have great craic, enjoy yourselves, and beware of that Great White basking behind Andytown Leisure Centre!

Sean Paul O'Hare, Director, Féile an Phobail

Fáilte Féile

Mamma Mia! Seo mé arís! Is ea, Caithfidh mé é a rá arís agus mé ag déanamh cur síos ar an bhliain seo caite – Is é clár Féile 2010 an clár is fearr choiche! Aon lá agus oíche déag de ceoil, coiméide, dráma iontach agus príomhchainteoirí iontacha le polaitíocht, irisíseoireacht agus litríocht a phlé. Beidh réimse leathan taispeántas ealaíne againn, an chuid is mó díobh suite i gColáiste Ollscoile Naomh Muire..

Tá mé ag feitheamh lena lán gearán láithreach mar go mbeidh cuid mhór ócáidí suimiúla ag teacht salach ar a chéile. Níl neart air agus is fadhó i a thagann le rath.

Ó na oícheanta ollphubaill i gCearnóg Bainc agus na hoícheanta tiomnaithe 'ceoil traidisiúnta' thart ar an cheathrú, an tSolann athchóirithe i mBaile Andarsan do na ceolchoirmeacha agus na damhsaí móra go dtí na drámaí a bheidh á dtaibhiú ar fud an Iarthair, agus an tsiamsaíocht áitiúil a bheidh ar fáil sna beaír agus clubanna, beidh rogha ag daoine.

Is mór an onóir dúinn go mbeidh an Fíle Nobel Seamus Heaney ag léamh filíochta tiomnaithe dá Iarphríomhoide Michael McLaverty óna laethanta i Naomh Tomás mar ábhar muínteora, i gColáiste Ollscoile Naomh Muire. Beidh réalta idirnáisiúnta agus mac Ard na bhFeá, an ceoltóir Brian Kennedy, ag léamh ag Scriobhaithe ag an West, agus go mbeidh údar an leabhar sárdhíolta 'Trainspotting', Irvine Welsh, ag cáint i Naomh Muire chomh maith.

Don chríoch, amharcann muid siar go dtí na hOchtóidí nuair a bheidh na hÍocónaigh popcheoil ABC ag gabháil ceoil i mBaile Andarsan. Roimhe sin áfach, beidh spuaiceanna ar chuid mhór bonn choise as a bheith ag 'Léim Thart' le fuaim an taibheora Everlast a bhfuil Gradam Grammy bainte aige. Arís beidh rogha mhaith éagsúil agat – Damien Dempsey, Michelle Shocked, Gemma Hayes [duine de na hamhránaíthe/scribhneoirí amhrán is fearr in Éirinn] agus ceol slánsach ó Cheolfhoireann Fhíolarmónach na Rúise. i Mainistir Chluain Ard.

Bhí brón ar dhaoine i mBéal Feirste Thiar gur dhruid InBev – ár bpríomhpháirtnéir pobail, suite ar Bhóthar an Ghleanna – ach tá muid sásta a rá, i ndiaidh sraith cruinnithe gur thug an comhlacht ciste oidhreachtacha cúig bliana do Féile a dhaingniú ar n-eagrais agus na ceithre fhéile bílantúla atá againn sa mheántéarma. Rinne muid clár traenála an-rathúil [trí ealaín] le hoibríthe 'Tennents' agus creideann muid go mbainfidh an dá pháirtí sochar as an pháirtíocht chruthaitheach dinimiciúil seo.

Is é an dea-scéal eile fógart ar an naisc idir Féile an Phobail le Féile Foghlaim ar feadh an tSaoil Chorcaí [féach ar leathanach 7] agus le cuidiú ó Co-operation Ireland, beidh sé ar intinn againn páirt a ghlacadh ina lán comhfhiontar, smaointe agus acmhainní daonna a thabhairt le chéile agus scéimeanna malairte a eagrú do dhaoine óga ón dá chathair. Caithfidh mé buíochas speisialta a ghabháil leis na heagrais pobail agus na healaíontóirí go léir a bhí ag obair ar an talamh na ag cruthú na n-ócáidí áitiúla mar is iad dúshraith ar bhféile iontach iad. Is ceannródaí i féile áitiúil Bhóthar Chluanaí Uachtarach agus is eiseamláir í do cheanatair eile ar is féidir leat a dhéanamh. Ar mhaith le duine ar bith dul in iomaíocht leo i rith ar bParáid Oscailte Lá Carnabhaill?

Bíodh craic mhaith agaibh, bainigí sult as agus bígí ar bhur bhfaichill ar an Siorc Bhan Mhór atá ag fanacht ag cúl Shóilann Bhaile Andarsan!

Foreword

For generations Tennent's has been at the heart of West Belfast and it is entirely appropriate that we should reinforce that link with continued support for Féile an Phobail, Ireland's largest community arts festival.

We have been part of the community, part of the craic and part of Féile an Phobail from its earliest days, 22 years ago. Over that time we have had a number of corporate identities, changing from Bass Ireland... to Interbrew... to InBev... to Anheuser-Busch InBev. Today we have emerged from that period of change as Tennent's NI, a name which has strong resonance here in West Belfast.

We are proud of our traditions and recognise that the firm foundations of our business, for so long based at The Ulster Brewery on the Glen Road, owe much to the strength, resilience and the commitment of the people of West Belfast. For almost 120 years the Ulster Brewery staff, and indeed the wider community of West Belfast, helped us to build this great business. In recognition and in thanks, our departure from that site has been marked by a significant investment into West Belfast as our support of Féile an Phobail over the next four years will demonstrate.

Féile an Phobail shows just how much can be achieved through the combination of community spirit and creativity and, once again, we look forward to a festival which can truly be described as world class.

Our congratulations go to all those whose hard work, enthusiasm and commitment shape and manage this fantastic, diverse programme of events and attractions. Their passion has put West Belfast centre stage in the most positive light possible. We wish you continued success with the 2010 programme and thank you for inviting us to be part of the 23rd Féile an Phobail.

Réamhfhocal

Le glúnta anuas bhí Tennent's ag croilár Bhéal Feirste Thiar agus tá sé go hiomlán ceart go neartaíonn muid an nasc le tacaíocht leanúnach a thabhairt do Féile an Phobail, an fhéile ealaíona pobail is mó in Éirinn. Bhí muid páir teach sa phobal, mar chuid den chraic, agus páir teach in Féile an Phobail óna laethanta luatha, 22 bliain ó shin. I rith an ama sin, bhí roinnt féiniúlachtaí corparáideacha againn, ag athrú ó Bass Ireland... go Interbrew... go InBev... go Anheuser-Busch InBev. Sa lá atá inniu, tháinig Tennent's NI as an tréimhse athraithe sin, ainm a bhfuil dáimh láidir aige anseo le daoine i mBéal Feirste Thiar.

Tá muid bródúil as ár dtraidisiúin agus aithníonn muid go bhfuil dúsraitheanna daingne ár ngnó, a bhí suite le fada ag Grúdlann Uladh ar Bhóthar an Ghleanna, faoi chomaoín ag near, acmhainneacht agus tiomantas mhuintir Bhéal Feirste Thiar. Le beagnach 120 bliain, chuidigh oibrithe Ghrúdlann Uladh agus leoga, muintir Bhéal Feirste Thiar linn an gnó iontach seo a fhorbairt. Mar aitheantas agus le buíochas, nuair a bhog muid ón suíomh sin chuir muid infeistíocht mhór thabachtach i mBéal Feirste Thiar mar a léiriú dár dtacaíocht do Féile an Phobail sna ceithre bliana amach anseo.

Léiríonn Féile an Phobail an méid is féidir leat a bhaint amach trí mheascán de spiorad agus cruthaitheacht an phobail, agus arís eile, tá muid ag súil le féile nach féidir leat cur síos a dheanamh uir thí ach mar fhéile den scoth.

Tréaslaionn muid le hobair dhian, díograis agus tiomantas iad siúd a mhúnlaionn agus a bhainistíonn an clár imeachtaí agus áiteanna is díol spéise iontach agus ilghnéitheach seo. Chuir a ndíograis Béal Feirste Thiar chun tosaigh ar an bhealach is dearfaí. Giúinn muid rath leanúnach oraibh le clár 2010 agus gabhann muid buíochas libh as cuireadh a thabhairt dúinn le bheith páir teach sa 23ú Féile an Phobail.

Féile an Phobail & Cork's Lifelong Learning Festival

At Cork's Lifelong Learning Festival in March it was announced that it is twinning with Féile an Phobail, with Lord Mayor of Cork, Dara Murphy and Féile Director Sean Paul O'Hare, launching the initiative. The first event to cement the new relationship took place in Belfast when Pádraig O Duinnín of Cork's Meitheal Mara gave a talk on traditional boats of Ireland during Féile an Earraigh and a future currach building project. Later, Belfast writer Tim Brannigan spoke at Cork's Scribes in the Commons'.

The two festivals share in common a huge community element, particularly aimed at the disadvantaged, and use all available space within their area – particularly parks, leisure centres, sports grounds, schools and colleges.

Over the last couple of years the Cork festival has showcased Belfast connections, celebrating in 2008 a three-year Co-operation Ireland 'Beyond Borders' project, which also involved young people from loyalist areas.

The Féile/Cork twinning project is backed by Co-operation Ireland's Cork branch and the organisation's Building Peace Initiative which aims to promote relationships between the southern and northern cities and is supported by Cork City Council and the City of Cork Vocational Education Committee – who are also the festival's main sponsors. The Belfast and Cork festivals hope to increasingly cooperate on youth exchanges, including promoting bands and performers, and sporting events such as the cities' marathons. Twinning is an opportunity for both festivals and cities to learn from each other and to foster new relationships through co-operation and exchanges.

Féile & Féile um Fhoghlaim ar feadh an tSaoil Chorcaí

I mí Mhárta, fógraíodh go raibh Féile um Fhoghlaim ar feadh an tSaoil Chorcaí ag dul nasc a dhéanamh le Féile an Phobail, agus sheol Ard-Mhéara Chorcaí Dara Murphy móide Stiúrthóir Féile an Tionscnamh. Tharlaigh an chéad imeacht leis an chaidreamh a neartú i mBéal Feirste nuair a rinne Pádraig Ó Duinnín ó Meitheal Mara Chorcaí caint ar bháid thraidisiúnta na hÉireann agus ar tionscadal tógála curach i rith Féile an Earraigh. Níos moille labhair an scríbhneoir Feirsteach Tim Brannigan ag 'Scribes in the Commons' i gCorcaigh.

Tá gné mhór pobail ag an dá fhéile, dírithe ach go háirithe ar dhaoine faoi mhíbhuntáiste, agus úsáideann siad na spásanna go léir atá ar fáil laistigh dá gceantar – go háirithe páirceanna, sólanna, tailte spóirt, scoileanna agus coláistí.

Le cúpla bliain anuas, chuir féile Chorcaí naisc Bhéal Feirste chun cinn, ag ceiliúradh tionscadal trí bliana 'Beyond Borders' de chuid Co-operation Ireland inar ghlac daoine óga ó cheantair dílseoirí páirt.

Tacaíonn brainse Chorcaí de Co-operation Ireland agus Tionscnamh Forbairt Siochána an eagrais a bhfuil sé mar aidhm aige na caidrimh idir cathracha ó dheas agus ó thuaidh a chur chun cinn, leis an tionscadal nasctha Féile/Chorcaí agus tacaíonn Comhairle Cathrach Chorcaí agus Coiste Gairmoideachais Chathair Chorcaí – ar príomhúraí na féile iad fosta, leis. Tá súil ag féilte Bhéal Feirste agus Chorcaí níos mó comhoibríthe a dhéanamh ar mhalar-tú ógra, agus ar bhannaí, taibheoirí agus imeachtaí spóirt amháil maratón na gcathracha a chur chun cinn chomh maith. Is deis é an nasc seo leis an dá fhéile agus an dá chathair foghlaim óna chéile agus le caidrimh nua a fhorbairt trí chomhoibriú agus trí mhalartuithe.

Friday 30th July, Doors 8pm

Born in Donaghmede on Dublin's Northside, Damien Dempsey is the voice that his youthful audience identify with, a singer who has emerged from the rough working class streets with his powerful self-belief intact. Morrissey said of Damien: "To hear him sing is to realise the magnitude of his astounding voice and heart. The songs are true, and his is the best and often the saddest voice of this generation." And Bono had this to say: "When he opens his mouth – it's like the end of the world." Such is his renown that Damien has played with Willie Nelson, Bob Dylan, U2 and The Pogues. Belfast singer Gráinne Holland brings amazing vocal strength and talent to an already impressive instrumental line-up. Traditional Gaelic songs are presented in a modern and fresh context while instrumental sets are given new life.

Sunday 1st August, Doors 8pm

Michelle Shocked – – traveller, troubadour, a “picker-poet,” as they say in Texas. As a young feminist, she left Texas to travel, Kerouac-style, and was caught up in Reagan-era grassroots politics. Her musical career was ignited by a bootleg recording made around a Kerrville Folk Festival campfire on a Sony Walkman. Released in England as ‘The Texas Campfire Tapes’ without Shocked’s authority, its success abroad enticed Mercury Records to offer the newcomer a recording contract. - “The most sophisticated hillbilly you’ll ever meet.” Gemma Hayes was cast into the international spotlight with her Mercury Prize-nominated debut album, Night on My Side. Since then, her unique musical style - a blend of rock, folk and electronica - has continued to impress, twice earning her nods as Ireland’s best female artist. Brigid O'Neill is from Downpatrick and has performed on stages all over the world in groups such as Cuigear Ban, Wildflower and Deanta. Brigid is currently performing with Jim Rainey (guitar) and Bill Johnston (double bass).

As players and singers of Irish Music, we are conveying the emotions of a long and turbulent history, both ancient and recent. An incredible injustice is taking place before the eyes of the world and we as Irish citizens and musicians wish to bring a message of solidarity to people in Palestine. Music has long been a valued tool in the struggle against injustice and this year will see us making the trip to Palestine and putting our skills to use. We hope to see you there for what promises to be an evening of kicking tunes and heartfelt songs, you won't want to miss it!

Tickets £7. All proceeds will be donated to Ceol Go Phailistín. Available at all Féile outlets. Bar until 1am.

Compered by Andrew Stanley
Andersonstown Leisure Centre
Thursday 5th August, Doors 8pm

Stand-up comic and Harry Potter star, Lenny Henry was the first British comic to make a live stand-up comedy film in the tradition of American comedians such as Eddie Murphy and Robin Williams. His endearing characters have ranged from Brixton's favourite wideboy 'Delbert Wilkins', to the one-man 'sex machine' Theophilus P. Wildebeeste and the Guinness-sipping Grandpa Deakus. Lenny added another string to his bow last year for his portrayal of Shakespeare's Othello in London's West End! And now his BBC Radio 4 sitcom 'Rudy's Rare Records' is likely to be turned into a television series. Yes, all the world's a stage ... and One Man in His Time plays many parts. Welcome – Lenny Henry!

Seamus Carabine, a Belfast Westie, is a regular face on the west coast of America comedy circuit, having regaled Britain and Ireland with his 'take' on Belfast riots and the rest! He has been described as the 'U2 of Irish comedians' by The Boston Globe! The great Bernard O'Shea - one half of TJ and TJ on Today FM's 'The Last Word' - makes a welcome return to Féile. This man is a fizzing, iridescent ball of sheer energy! Compere Andrew Stanley is one of the top comics working the Worldwide Comedy Circuit and is also a regular fixture on the Kilkenny Cat Laughs calendar and the legendary Comedy Cellar in Dublin. One of the most quick-witted hosts one could ask for! Tickets - £10, available at all Féile outlets. Bar till 1am. In association with Magners Pear.

Chuir sé lena charachtair ghrámhara ó wideboy Brixton is fearr 'Delbert Wilkins', an 'meaisín gnéasúil' aon fhear amháin Theophilus P. Wildebeeste go dtí Grandpa Deakus a ólann leann dubh, anuraidh nuair a rinne sé páirt Othello i ndráma Shakespeare sa West End i Londain! Is dócha go ndéanfar clár teilifíse dá dhráma grín suimh ar BBC Radio 4 'Rudy's Rare Records' is ea, is ardán é an domhan uilig ... agus déanann Fear Amháin ina Chuid Ama cuid mhór páirteanna. Fáilte – Lenny Henry! Saturday 7th August, Doors 8pm

Brit-award nominated band, The Wonder Stuff, headlined on the Avalon Stage at Glastonbury in 2009. Way back, the band's 'Unbearable', became a UK Indie Chart No 1 shortly after its release. In 1991 they shot to No 1 with their quirky re-make (along with Vic Reeves) of Tommy Roe's song, 'Dizzy'. There has always been an individual spark about Cornershop. In the live arena they have enjoyed major success, touring extensively in Europe and America with Beck and Oasis. "As interesting and adventurous as The Beatles," wrote The Observer. Mojo declared the band as "a candidate for the quintessential 21st century pop group." Cornershop's lead singer Tjinder Singh's voice has been described as 'unspun silk' though his name translates as 'Fire!' Local band Cashier No. 9 are an alternative pop band that has stormed clubs in Belfast, Dublin and London and in the last twelve months they have supported Snow Patrol, played Glastonbury, Oxygen & Glasgowbury Festivals. In Danny Todd they have a gifted guitarist and songwriter: a band playing a unique hybrid of pop, rock, indie, country and electronica. "Staggering, nonchalant talent" – BBC NI Across the Line.

Ba é an banna ceoil The Wonder Stuff, a ainmníodh do Gradam Brit, an príomhacht ar Ardán Avalon ag Glastonbury in 2009. Bhí an t-amhrán 'Unbearable', ag uimhir a haon i gCairteanna Indie na Ríochta Aontaithe go gairid i ndiaidh a eisiúna fadó. In 1991 bhain a leagan aisteach féin (i gcomhar le Vic Reeves) d'amhrán Tommy Roe 'Dizzy' uimhir a aon amach. Bhí splanc indibhidiúil ag Cornershop, i gcónaí. Ar an airéine bheo bhí rath mór acu, ag déanamh camchuarite go forleathan ar fud na hEorpa agus Mheiriceá le Beck agus Oasis. "As interesting and adventurous as The Beatles," a scríobh The Observer. Mhaigh Mojo go raibh an banna mar "a candidate for the quintessential 21st century pop group.". Rinneadh cur síos ar ghuth phríomhamhránaí Cornershop Tjinder Singh mar 'síoda neamhsníofa' cé gurb é 'Tine' an t-aistriúchán atá ar a ainm! Is banna popcheoil de shórt eile é an banna ceoil áitiúil Cashier No. 9 a bhí ag seinm sna clubanna i mBéal Feirste, i mBaile Átha Cliath agus i Londain, agus le dhá mhí déag anuas bhí siad mar thacaíocht do Snow Patrol agus sheinn siad i bhFéilte in Glastonbury, Oxygen & in Glasgowbury. Is giotáraí agus scríbhneoir amhrán tréitheach é Danny Todd s'acu: is banna é a sheinneann hibrid uathúil de phopcheoil, rac-cheoil, ceoil indie, ceoil tíre agus ceoil leictreonaice. "A revelation, a soul man supreme, the missing link between Bryan Ferry and Jarvis Cocker, a pop genius on top form" is how the 'New Musical Express' described ABC's front man Martin Fry. Very definitely one of a number of groups who came along and kick-started the Eighties with their own brand of pop for a 'new decade'. ABC's 'Lexicon of Love' crashed straight into the album charts at number one. 'Poison Arrow', 'The Look Of Love' and 'All Of My Heart' were a ground-breaking collection of modern love songs. Today ABC burn with the same fire, energy and eloquence, pleasing audiences worldwide with their great music and entertainment. Resident at 'Glamarama' in Belfast's Empire Theatre, Glamslam, fronted by Downtown radio's Johnny Hero, are a highly entertaining band paying tribute to the likes of Bowie, T. Imagining The Republic

Eoin Ó Broin interviewed by Jude Collins
St Mary's University College,
Saturday 31st July, 12.30pm

Throughout the 19th and 20th century Irish nationalists have imagined 'The Republic' in very different ways. In addition to the dominant nationalism of the state and church, counter-nationalisms have been put forward by politicians, novelists and artists who have sought to oppose the conservative version of 'The Republic' offered by those in power. Author and activist Eoin Ó Broin will explore these different imaginings and ask which idea of 'The Republic' is most suited to Ireland today. Jude Collins is a lecturer, broadcaster and author of several books.

'Weapons of Choice'

St Mary's University College,

Monday 2nd August, 2pm

The Pat Finucane Centre and the Derry Playhouse Actors' Group present a dramatic, multi-media account of how weapons were 'stolen' or 'disappeared' from various British Army, UDR and RUC bases throughout the conflict. New and forensically-tested evidence is constantly emerging about how many people met their deaths as a result. The British government's response? Cover up and lies. Using hitherto secret documents and photographic evidence, these stories of the guns and their victims will give this year's 40th anniversary of the founding of the UDR an entirely different perspective.

Peace Lines and Lyrics

Falls Road Library

Tuesday 3rd August, 12.30pm

At the unveiling of an archive presentation journalist Barney Rowan will be joined by Sinn Féin Deputy First Minister Martin McGuinness and loyalist William 'Plum' Smith, who chaired the 1994 Combined Loyalist Military Command ceasefire news conference. The conversation will focus on interviews from the early 1990s when Martin McGuinness said the British Government needed to speak to republicans (which, of course, they actually were at this time, privately, though John Major said it would 'turn his stomach'). Former Red Hand Commando prisoner 'Plum' Smith will be asked about the build-up to the CLMC ceasefire - about loyalist fears and concerns after the IRA declared its complete cessation of military operations. Special guest - singer/songwriter Gerry Creen, who has been billed with Nanci Griffith, Brian Kennedy, Juliet Turner and Mick Hanly, and whose signature tune 'A Rose By Any Other Name' has been described by Rev Harold Good as "a timely reminder of where we have been, where we are now, and to where we must not return".

The Annual Belfast Trust/Féile Lecture - Glasgow's Lesson for Belfast – Inequalities and Ill Health

St Mary's University College,

Tuesday 3rd August, 5pm

Dr Carol Craig is Chief Executive of the Centre for Confidence and Well-being in Glasgow, and the author of 'The Scots' Crisis of Confidence', which added to the growing debate about the relationship between self-confidence, learning and achievement. Her latest book, 'The Tears That Made the Clyde', scrutinises Glasgow's post-industrial image as 'Scotland with style'. Craig will show that many citizens languish as a result of mental ill-health, physical illness, deprivation, worklessness, gangs, drink, drugs and family breakdown.

St Mary's University College
Friday 6th August, 1pm
Speaker – Colm O'Gorman

Steps towards truth and justice. Lessons from the Southern Irish experience on how best to ensure proper acknowledgment and accountability for historic child abuse in and beyond church institutions. In 1998 Colm O'Gorman launched a legal case against the Catholic Church as a result of his experiences of sexual abuse at the hands of one of its priests when he was a teenager. His story, told in a BBC documentary, 'Suing the Pope', resulted in the resignation of the Bishop of Ferns Dr Brendan Comiskey. Colm founded 'One in Four' to support women and men who have experienced sexual violence and was instrumental in the establishment of the Ferns Inquiry, the first state investigation into clerical sexual abuse in Ireland. In February 2008, Colm was appointed Executive Director of Amnesty International Ireland. He is also the author of the best selling memoir, 'Beyond Belief'.

Rededication of the grave of Sam

Thompson

City Cemetery

Guest Speaker – Jimmy Ellis

Friday 30th July, 12 noon

Sam Thompson, born in Ballymacarret, was a socialist and trade unionist whose play, 'Over The Bridge', charted the tragic course of a sectarian dispute in the shipyard. Offered to James – Jimmy – Ellis, director of the Ulster Group Theatre in 1958, the production immediately ran into difficulties when J. Ritchie McKee (Board of Directors) claimed that it would "offend and affront every section of the public". On principle, Ellis resigned and formed his own company. The play finally opened in 1960 directed by Ellis with an incredible box office of 42,000 during its six-week run. Last year, playwright Martin Lynch reprised 'Over The Bridge', and today Jimmy Ellis will rededicate the grave of his old friend.

Jimmy Ellis is one of the finest actors to emerge from the North – and is affectionately recalled for his character as Bert Lynch in 'Z Cars' and from the 'Billy' trilogy. Jimmy is also a writer of poems and prose and a translator. His book, 'Over The Bridge – An Eye-Witness Account', will be published this autumn. Chairperson – Tom Hartley.

Dé hAoine 30 Iúil, 12 nóin

Rugadh Sam Thompson i mBaile Mhic Gearóid agus ba shóisialaí agus cheardchumannaí é ar inis a dhráma, 'Over The Bridge', faoi scéal tragóideach argóinte seictí sa longlann. Nuair a tugadh do James – Jimmy – Ellis, stiúrthóir Amharclann Ghrúpa Uladh in 1958, bhí deacrachtaí láithreach sa léiriú nuair a d'éilligh (Bord na Stiúrthóirí) "go gcuirfeadh sé olc ar agus go maslódh sé gach duine sa phobal" Ar bhonn prionsabail, d'éirigh Ellis as agus chuir sé a chompántas féin ar bun. D'oscail an dráma faoi dheireadh in 1960 agus Ellis á stiúradh agus i rith a sé seachtaine ar an ardán tháinig méid sárliontach de 42,000 duine le hamharc ar an drama. Anuraidh, athrinne an drámadóir 'Over The Bridge', agus inniu atiomnóidh Jimmy Ellis uaigh a sheancharad.

Tá Jimmy Ellis ar dhuine de na haisteoirí is fearr dar tháinig riamh ón Tuaisceart – agus athchuirtear go ceanúil ar a charachtar Bert Lynch in 'Z Cars' agus air ó thriológ 'Billy'. Is scríbhneoir dánta agus próis agus is aistriúiteoir é Jimmy. Foilseofar a leabhar, 'Over The Bridge – An Eye-Witness Account', san fhómhar. Cathaoirleach – Tom Hartley.

'Asking For Trouble'

St Mary's University College
Saturday 31st July, 11am

Renowned critic, reviewer and anthologist Patricia Craig was born and educated in Belfast, including St Dominic's [Falls Road], from where she was dismissed for "carrying on" with boys in the Gaeltacht! Her experience and expulsion from there, and how that event had a profound impact on her life, featured in her 2007 memoir 'Asking for Trouble'. Patricia has edited 'The Rattle of the North: An Anthology of Ulster Prose', 'The Belfast Anthology' and 'The Ulster Anthology'. In 'The Oxford Book of Ireland' she compiled a literary anthology of the cultural and social development of Ireland through the work of poets, novelists, historians and social commentators. She has written the authorised biography of Brian Moore. At present she is working on a book provisionally entitled 'Scullabogue' whose central aim is to undermine sectarianism by uncovering connections across various areas of division in the North of Ireland. Patricia will talk about her work in the literary arts and her life after the Gaeltacht!

Brian Kennedy, Tony Macaulay, Mags Treanor.

Mags Treanor is a poet, fiction writer and story teller based in the West of Ireland. Her work has been anthologised in Ireland and America and broadcast on RTE. Mags co-hosts the 'Loose Lips Story Slam' with comedian Tommy Tiernan and has performed at the Electric Picnic and the Festival of World Cultures. In her free time she single-handedly raises her three children, works as a business consultant and hits a mighty shuttlecock!

"It's Belfast, 1975, and a 12-year-old boy wearing Brut aftershave has just been appointed paperboy to the Upper Shankill by Oul' Mac. The smell of Tayto cheese and onion crisps is on his breath, and the aroma of fresh fish suppers and burning double-decker busses is in the air. It is the era of platform shoes and parallel trousers, and Paperboy is taking guitar lessons with Mr Rowing so he can play along to the Bay City Rollers. ... The streets are ruled by the IRA and the UDA, but Paperboy is under the spell of a less threatening acronym: ABBA." Author of the beguiling memoir 'Paperboy', writer and broadcaster Tony Macaulay was born on the Shankill Road and now works for peace and reconciliation at home and abroad.

Singer/songwriter/performer/international star Brian Kennedy is loved and admired for his voice, music and guitar. But behind the facade, there's a different story and it was a long, tough haul from the Falls Road, his birthplace, with early years spent at the height of the Troubles and the screech of sirens, rather than music, ringing in his ears. In 2002 two of Brian's short story appeared in the anthology, 'Breaking The Skin'. His debut novel 'The Arrival of Fergal Flynn' in 2004 shot to No.3 in the Irish Best Seller list. This autumn sees the publication of a long-awaited memoir titled 'Harmonising With Ambulances'. Brian Kennedy – lyricist or novelist? Find out today!
Admission - £6 at door. Please arrive on time, this event is always oversubscribed.

‘The same old story?’

Various busy locations, various times

Fifty years ago demonstrators in Sharpeville, protesting against the infamous ‘pass laws’ were shot down by the apartheid regime. Fifty years on Irish airports from Belfast to Shannon divide Europeans and non-Europeans into separate channels and black people are increasingly being singled out for identity checks at ports (and even on Belfast-Dublin buses) on the basis of their skin colour. West Belfast knows only too well about being treated as a ‘suspect’ community, the foundation of Féile an Phobail in 1988 being part of the fight-back. Sadly, this historical experience is now the experience of migrants, refugees and others coming to live in Belfast and beyond. The West Against Racism Network (WARN) has launched an Anti Racism Charter ‘Cairt Fhrith-Chiníochais Iathar Bheal Feirste’ in an effort to combat all forms of racism and to foster an active anti-racist culture. Now, WARN in partnership with Belfast’s Kabosh Theatre will use site-specific theatre to bring alive the issues at the heart of institutionalised racism and how our perception of difference is shaped. Throughout the Féile look out for a range of dramatic events in unusual locations and listen in to Féile FM.

Creationism for Dummies - by a Dummy

Written by Alan McKee, Produced By Martin McSharry

Roddy MacCorley Social Club, Glen Road

Friday 30th – Saturday 31st July, 8pm

This is not a scientific lecture. This is not stand-up.

This is a hybrid monster created in a laboratory by a man who couldn't pass his O-Level biology. Yet even he knows that creationism sounds like a fairytale. Creationism might sound like a unified theory – God made it all, right? But there are even more splits in creationism than there are in unionism: Young Earth Creationism, Old Earth Creationism, Omphalos (yes really), Gap Creationism, Intelligent Design Creationism. Let comedian Alan McKee (part of the hugely successful comedy duo Grimes and McKee), be your unreliable guide out of the darkness of superstition, towards the enlightenment of science.

Tickets £6/£5 are available from all Féile outlets.

‘An seanscéal céanna?’

Áiteanna gnóthacha éagsúla, amanna éagsúla

Caoga bliain ó shin, scaoil an réimeas críochdheighillte léirsitheoirí in Sharpeville le hurchair, agus iad ag léirsiú in éadan na ‘pass laws’ uafásacha. Caoga bliain níos moille roinneann aerfoirt Éireannacha ó Bhéal Feirste go dtí an tSionainn Eorpaigh agus neamhEorpaigh i mbealaí éagsúla agus tá méadú ar dhaoine gorma atá á roghnú do sheiceálacha aitheantais ag poirt (agus ar bhusanna Bheal Feirste go Béal Átha Cliath fiú) ar bhonn dath a gcrainn. Tá a fhios go maith ag Béal Feirste Thiar ar an bhail a cuireadh air mar phobal ‘faoi amhras’, ach bhí bunú Féile an Phobail in 1988 mar chuid den troid ar ais. Ar an drochuair, is eispéaras imirceach, dídeanaíthe agus dhaoine eile a bhogann le bheith ina gcónaí i mBéal Feirste agus lasmúigh, é an t-eispéaras stairiúil seo. Sheol Gréasán an Iarthair in éadan Cinióchais (GIÉC) ‘Cairt Fhrith-Chiníochais Iathar Bheal Feirste’ chun iarracht a dhéanamh le dul i ngleic le gach sort cinióchais agus le cultúr gníomhach frithchiníochais a chothú. I gcomhar le hAmharclann Kabosh Bhéal Feirste, úsáidfídh GIÉC an amharclann sainshuimh na ceisteanna ag croílár cinióchais instiúidigh agus leis an dóigh a múnlaítear ar léargas ar éagsúlacht a léiriú. Ar fud na Féile coinnigh súil amach do réimse imeachtaí drámata in áiteanna neamhghnáthacha agus eist le Féile FM.

Paula Allen – Women of the DRC

Paula Allen is a social documentary photographer based in New York City and works with numerous human rights organisations. Her work has been published in The New York Times Magazine, Newsweek, Paris Match and The London Independent Magazine. She has documented Chechen refugee camps in the Russian Federation and the murders of women factory workers in Ciudad Juarez, Mexico. Some of her images have been used as postage stamps in France to bring awareness to the need to stop violence against women. Her book, 'Flores en el Desierto', is about the search for 'the disappeared' during the Chilean coup of 1973. A prolific campaigner, her Féile exhibition raises awareness of the horrendous sexual genocide of women and girls in the Democratic Republic of Congo. The exhibit will run alongside a number of events to highlight and support the Women of the Congo and the Panzi Hospital which treats the victims of a genocidal war that has claimed the lives of more than four million and has gone largely unreported. Paula Allen has been visiting Ireland for almost thirty years and dedicates her exhibition to her beloved Belfast family, the Groves.

Paula Allen – Mná PDC

Is grianghrafadóir fainéise sóisialta í Paula Allen atá suite i gCathair Nua-Eabhraic agus oibríonn sí le cuid mhór eagrais chearta an duine. Foilsíodh a saothar in The New York Times Magazine, Newsweek, Paris Match agus The London Independent Magazine. Dhoiciméadaigh sí campaí na ndéanaíthe Seisniacha i gCónaidhm na Rúise agus dúnmharú na mbanoibrithe monarchan in Ciudad Juarez, Meicsiceo. Úsáideadh cuid dá hiomhánna ar stampaí poist sa Fhrainc le heolas ar an ghá chun stop a le foréigean ar mhná a mhúscailt. Tá a leabhar, 'Flores en el Desierto', an chuardach do na 'daoine fuadaithe' i rith na gabhála ceannais sa tSile in 1973. Is feachtasóir ilghníomhach í agus músclaíonn a taispeántas Féile eolas ar chinedhíothú gnéasach ban agus girseacha i bPoblacht Dhaonlathach an Chongó. Beidh an taispeántas ann i rith roinnt ócáidí le béim a chur ar agus tacaíocht a thabhairt do Mhná an Chongó agus Otharlann Panzi a chóireálann íobartaigh cogaidh chindhíothaigh a mharaigh níos mó ná ceithre mhíliúin duine agus nach ndearnadh mórán tuairiscí air. Bhí Paula Allen ag tabhairt cuairte ar Éirinn le beagnach tríocha bliain anuas agus tiomnaíonn sí a taispeántas dá teaghlach ionúin Feirsteach, na Groves.

World upside Down

Heather Wilson

Heather showcases her amazing works using steel, glass and light as a medium. 'Echo and Narcissus'- mirror polished stainless steel & glass; 'World upside Down' – photograph; 'Flicker' – glass, duratran & light; 'Hesitate' – glass, duratran and light; and, 'Hesitate' – glass, duratran & light. "My work," says Heather, "attempts to articulate little foretastes of the spine-tingling 'unknown' that make life fascinating... it's not about mere existence, it's about absorbing every drop of childlike pleasure... seeing the extraordinary in the ordinary, the reality in things we only sense ... and catching the magic of our own involvement in it."

Conflicting Interests

Originally a farmer from Cookstown, Johnston Mitchell gained a degree in sculpture and a Masters in Art & Design. He has exhibited at the prestigious International Festival of Glass in Stourbridge. His aim has been to show conflict by using materials such as steel, glass and plaster. His juxtaposition of the materials entices the viewer to examine ever closer and see something new as they move around each piece of work. This current work with two conflicting materials combined in an extremely long and difficult process show that these materials can work together even if it is a fragile bond.

'Flicker'

Heather Wilson

Taispeánann Heather a saothair iontach ag úsáid cruaike, gloine agus solas mar mheán. 'Echo and Narcissus'- cruach dhosmálta scáthánsnasta & gloine; 'World upside Down' – grianghraf; 'Flicker' – gloine, duratran & solas; 'Hesitate' – gloine, duratran agus solas; agus, 'Hesitate' – gloine, duratran & solas. "Mo shaothar," a deir Heather, "iarrachtaí le réamhbhlástáin bheaga den rud éigin spreagúil 'gan aithne' a dhéanann rud fíorspeisiúil den saol a chur i bhfíriotal ... níl sé faoi le bheith ann, tá sé faoi gach deor de phléisiúr pháistiúil a shú ... ag feiceáil an ruda iontach sa ghnáthrud, an réaltacht sna rudaí a mhothaíonn muid amháin ... agus ag tuiscint draíocht ár rannpháirteachais ann."

Suimeanna Contrártha

B'fheirmeoir as an Chorr Chriochach ag an tús é, Johnston Mitchell a fuair céim i ndealbhoireacht agus a fuair céim Mháistreachtá in Ealain agus Dearadh. Bhí taispeántas aige san Fhéile Idirnáisiúnta Gloine chlúiteach in Stourbridge. Is í an aidhm atá aige coimhlínt a léiriú ag úsáid ábhar amháil cruach, gloine agus plástar. Meallann neas-suíomh na n-ábhar an bhreathnóir scrúdú níos mine a dhéanamh agus rud éigin nua a fheiceáil agus iad ag bogadh thart ar gach saothar. Léiríonn an saothar reatha seo le dhá ábhar chontrárthachta le chéile i bpróiseas iontach fada agus deacair gur féidir leis na hábhair seo oibriú le chéile fiú más nasc sobhriste é.

Human Rights Journalism Amnesty International Media Awards 2010

Celebrating the best of human rights journalism, this exhibition brings together the work of photojournalists short listed in Amnesty International's 19th Annual Media Awards. These works address serious human rights issues in a frank and honest manner, giving a voice to victims and speaking directly to the viewer, featuring striking images from Giles Duley, Robin Hammond and Kate Holt.

Iriseoireacht Chearta an Duine Gradaim Meán Amnesty International 2010

Ag ceiliúradh scoth na hiriseoireachta chearta and duine, tugann an taispeántas seo saothar na n-iriseoirí grianghrafadóireachta gearrliostáilte sa 19ú Gradaim Meán Bhliantúla Amnesty International, le chéile. Téann an saothair seo i gceann ceisteanna chearta an duine ar bhealach ionraic agus macánta, ag seasamh d'íobartaigh agus ag caint go díreach leis an bhreathnóir, ina bhfuil íomhánna suntasacha ó Giles Duley, Robin Hammond agus Kate Holt.

Women in Conflict: Collateral Damage Exhibition

Jenny Matthews

Amnesty International has been campaigning globally against violence against women for five years. Extensive research has shown how, long after the peace has been brokered, conflicts continue to exact a disproportionate impact on women. Documentary photographer Jenny Matthews has travelled all over the world, working for human rights and development organisations. Her photography has been published in a wide range of magazines including Marie Claire, Guardian Weekend, Sunday Times, the Independent, and Night and Day. Her book 'Women and War' was published in 2003 and she has exhibited her work internationally. These images, taken in different conflicts around the world, not only demonstrate the lasting legacy of conflict, but highlight the consistent trend of inequality and discrimination that feeds conflict and undermines our responses.

WheelWorks Light Writing Project

During the dark nights of winter, young people from the junior group at New Lodge Arts Academy in North Belfast used torches, coloured gels and digital photography to create these amazing 'light graffiti' images around their local neighbourhood. This was a brand new prototype project which developed participants' skills in digital photography, film software packages and creative thinking. Sessions were held in the young people's community centre and onboard the ArtCart, WheelWorks' unique, purpose-built mobile arts vehicle. "This project fitted in perfectly to our programme, offering new opportunities and art forms through taster sessions is what New Lodge Arts is all about." Thanks go to all at New Lodge Arts, especially Cecilia Heron, WheelWorks artist Veronica Tate and WheelWorks ArtCart drivers Donal McCann and Mary McAnespie.

Mná i gCoimhlint: Taispeántas Damáiste Chomhthaobhaigh

Jenny Matthews

Bhí Amnesty International ag feachtasú go domhanda in éadan foréigin ar mhán le cúig bliana. Léirigh taighde forleathan an bealach a bhfuil tionchar diréireach ag coimhlintí ar mhná, fiú agus an tsíocháin bainte amach le fada. Thastail an grianghrafadóir faisnéise Jenny Matthews ar fud an domhain ag obair ar son chearta an duine agus d'eagrais forbartha. Foilsíodh a grianghrafanna i réimse leathan irisí Marie Claire, Guardian Weekend, Sunday Times, an Independent, agus Night and Day san áireamh. Foilsíodh a leabhar 'Women and War' in 2003 agus bhí a cuid saothair ar taispeántas go hidirnáisiúnta. Ní amháin go léiríonn na hiomhánna, a glacadh i gcoimhlintí éagsúla ar fud an domhain, oidhreacht bhuan coimhlinte, ach cuireann siad béim ar nós comhsheasmhach neamhionannais agus leithcheala a chothaíonn coimhlint agus a bhaineann an bonn dár bhfreagairtí.

Tionscadal Scríbhneoireachta Solais WheelWorks

I rith oícheanta dorcha an gheimhridh, bhain daoine óga ón grúpa sóisearach ag Acadamh Ealaíon an Lóiste Uir i dTuaisceart Bhéal Feirste úsáid as lóchrainn póca, glóthaigh dháite agus grianghrafadóireacht dhigiteach le hiomhánna iontacha 'graffiti solais' a chruthú thart ar a gcomharsanacht. Tionscadal úrnua fréamhshamhla a bhí ann a d'fhorbair scileanna na rannpháirtithe i ngrianghrafadóireacht dhigiteach, pacáistí bogearraí scannáin agus i smaointeoireacht chruthaitheach. Bhí na seisiúin suite in ionad pobail na ndaoine óga agus ar fheithicil ealaíon gluaisteach uathuill saintógtha ArtCart, WheelWorks'. "Bhí an tionscadal seo foirsteanach agus foirfe do clár s'gáinne, ag tabhairt deiseanna agus foirmeacha ealaíne trí sheisiúin bhlastáin agus sin an rud is ann d'Ealaíon an Lóiste Uir". Ba mhaith liom buíochas a ghabháil leo go léir in Ealaíon an Lóiste Uir, go háirithe le Cecilia Heron, ealaíontóir WheelWorks Veronica Tate agus tiománaithe WheelWorks ArtCart Donal McCann and Mary McAnespie.

These individuals work selflessly, often without thanks or appreciation... until now. We take a glimpse of the unsung heroes at work. Tony Bell

Beechmount man Tony Bell first began painting in the Cages of Long Kesh. After attending Art College in the late 70s he then worked as a designer in various advertising agencies but didn't have the opportunities to return to his first love - painting. In recent years he began painting again. He has had pictures purchased by Gerry Adams, presented to Eamon ó Cúiv [Minister for Arts and Culture in the South] and also shown Nelson McCausland [Minister for Arts and Culture in the North] his work on a recent private visit to one of his exhibitions.

Solidarity with the Basque Country

The formation of the 'Don't Extradite the Basques Campaign' created a momentum not seen in Ireland for many years and created an awareness of the ongoing conflict within the Basque Country, something that is so often suppressed by the media. This exhibition documents the work of the campaign.

Sna blianta déanacha, thosaigh sé ag péintéireacht arís. Cheannaigh Gerry Adams pictiúra a thug sé d'Eamon ó Cúiv [Aire Ealaíon agus Cultúir sa Deisceart] agus thaispeáint sé a shaothar do Nelson McCausland [Aire Ealaíon agus Cultúir sa Tuaisceart] a bhí ar chuairt phríobháideach go dtí ceann dá dtaispeántais.

An Audience with Fiachra Sheridan & Tim Brannigan St Mary's University College Friday 6th August, 2pm

Fiachra, is a school teacher and author whose debut novel, 'The Runners', earned him comparisons with Roddy Doyle. His novel follows the adventures of Bobby and his best friend Jay, two lively 13-year-olds growing up in inner-city Dublin in the 1980s. Fiachra grew up in Dublin's north inner city and he is the son of writer and playwright Peter Sheridan and nephew of film director Jim Sheridan. Tim Brannigan's powerful memoir, 'Where Are You Really From?', shot to number one in Waterstones after its publication and has earned Tim – who is black, from the Falls Road and served time in the IRA wings in the H-Blocks - praise for his honesty and humour and his devotion to his mother Peggy. This will prove to be a fascinating discussion. Funded by Peace III Building Positive Relations at the Local Level.

Chuaigh leabhar cuimhní cinn cumhachtach Tim Brannigan, 'Where Are You Really From?', go díreach chuig uimhir a haon in Waterstones i ndiaidh a fhoilsithe agus moladh Tim – is duine gorm é, is as Bóthar na bhFál é agus chaith sé tamall i Sciatháin Óglaigh na hÉireann sna H-Bhlocanna – as a mhacántacht, as a ghreann agus as an dúthacht dá mháthair Peggy. All for a cause bigger than us all - CAMARA, based at Townsend Street Belfast, which operates as a social enterprise in two distinct business lines: 'Education Delivery' and 'Computer

Reuse'. The connection between these two, seemingly disparate activities is technology. They take in used computers from Irish companies and individuals, wipe their hard drives of data, refurbish and load them with educational software before setting them up as Learning Centres in schools in Africa and Ireland. CAMARA train teachers to use these computers as tools to improve the delivery of education to their students. The production of computer training and educational multimedia materials for use by teachers and children also goes hand in hand with this sterling work. Le Emma Ní Shúileabháin

Dé Sathairn 7 Lúnasa, 8i.n.

Buaiteoir Gradam Meteor sa chatagóir cheol na ndaoine/traidisiúna faoi dhó, rinne an fear Corcaíoch camchuairt ar fud an tíre agus an domhain ag cur lúcháire ar dhaoine lena mheascán de phoiréit shéisreacha, a scéalta siamsúla agus a liricí fileata. Rinne Irish Music magazine cur síos air mar dhuine a bhfuil "ceann de na fíorghuthanna Éireannacha dá ghlúin" aige. Tá an spiorad Ceilteach ag Spillane go cinnte. Lena amhráin ghrámhara 'The Dunnes Stores Girl' agus 'Beautiful Ballincollig' agus níos mó cnagamhráin 'As Gaeilge' chomh maith le cuid mhór deisbhéalaiochta aige, is scothshiamsóir é John Spillane. Ar an ardán fosta beidh Emma Ní Shúileabháin, curadh an Oireachtais agus iomaitheoir i gcomórtas ceannais 'All Ireland Talent Show' ar RTÉ, ag léiriú damhsa céime sean-nóis go hiontach. Ticéid - £10, ar fáil ó An Chultúrlann.
